Mark Jan. 9 As Career Day At Manual

"Opportunity Day will be what you make it," said Mr. E. Franklin Fisher, Director of Counseling. "It will give, to those who know its value, numerous advantages toward choosing a career." Manual's annual Opportunity Day is scheduled for Wednesday, January 9.

This year's Opportunity Day is actually a combined Career Day, College Terminal Education, first Opportunity, and was in the first of the first.

Christmas And To Feature Yule Singing

A scene of the traditional Yuletide celebration in England will highlight Manual's day. Carolers, the Brass Ensemble, and the Orchestra will also join in the festivities.

After the organ prelude by Miss Freda Hart, the Christmas story, according to St. Luke, will be read by Miss Mary Ann. The Mass will be read by Mr. Larry Anderson. The principal will give his Christmas message.

The Manualites, who always sing as a group with the school, had a lot of extra work last week. The Emmanuel Church choir, which sang at the church service, will sing at the school service.

English Department To Honor Top Performers At April Tea

The English and Language Department has set Monday, April 29, as the date of its Honors Day and Tea. Miss Ada M. Bing, head of the department, has announced that Room 214 and the Library will be used for the program.

Several awards will be presented. Some of them include the VanDusen Short Story Award, the Griffith Poetry Award, the Evans Essay Award, the outside reading prize (to the senior who has read the most unassigned books during his four years of high school), and the H.N. B. Roth Essay Prize.

HEADLINES THE 1957 STORIES

People make a school and what these people do makes the news. Manual's headline stories develop from honors won by individuals or the school, traditional events repeated yearly but ever new, special projects tried by enterprising groups, classes deviating from the regular routine, and the fun derived from working and playing together. Here are Emmerich Manual Training High School's front page stories of 1957.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY TRAINING
HIGH SCHOOL

Football season for Manual's Redskins was ushered in by a Pep Session in the inner campus. Cheerleaders and the Pep Band sparked school spirit for pupils and teachers alike. The Gym was the scene of Pep Sessions during basketball season.

Manualites 'Write' Headlines the Year Around

Who, what, when, where, why, and how—the essential elements that begin every news story comprise Manual's headlines. Manualites, more than 1,700 pupils and 100 faculty and staff members, and what they do during their busy school days make up these stories. Their setting is the four-year-old, sprawling, modern plant on Indianapolis' rapidly growing Southside. Pupils are here to prepare for the future not only through classroom studies, but also through participation in the varied activities and opportunities available at Manual. In taking advantage of these, Manualites bring honors and acclaim to themselves and their school.

Auditorium programs begin with the Posting of the Colors. Band Flag Bearer Mary Whitney presents Old Glory as actors wait in the wing for the show to start.

Kiwanis Club Cites 'Best Football Band'

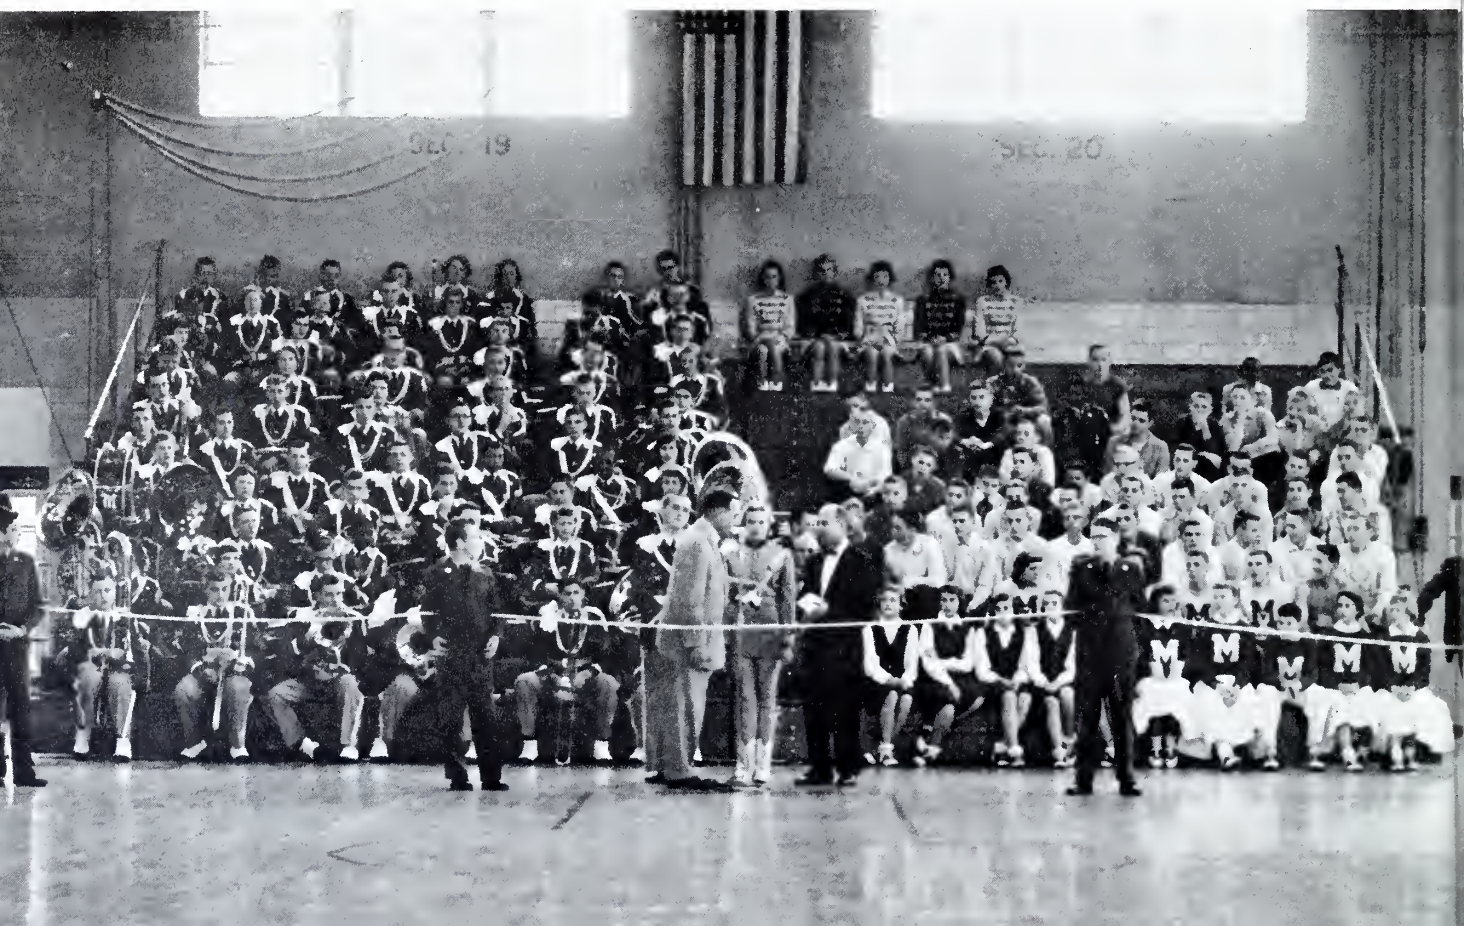

Snappy Drills Win Musicians' Third Trophy;
Moms and Dads Underwrite Nifty New Uniforms

Band majorettes made pretty hoboos last Fall in make-shift bandana outfits. These "tramps" are Joann Dryer, feature twirler, Jewel Vaughn, Carol Kemp, Judy Ferguson, Nancy Brandlein, Tina Hughett, and Lois Strong, drum major.

A top headliner all year, Manual's 85-piece Band caused Redskins to beam with pride. Band members offset late-arriving new uniforms last Fall by donning jeans and bandanas in "tramp" fashion. They initiated their stunning new red and blue outfits in a Homecoming "spectacular" that convinced many a grad he was born too soon. In November the Downtown Kiwanis Club chose ours as the "Outstanding Football Band" for the third straight year. They play as well as they march, too, and won a first division medal at the State Music Contest in April.

A representative of the Downtown Kiwanis Club cited Manual's "best" at the send-off basketball Pep Session, November 30. Mr. George H. Pattison presented the trophy for "Outstanding Football Band" to Band Captain Bill Henninger, Drum Major Lois Strong, and Mr. William Kleyla, director. Members of the varsity cheerleading squad accepted the trophy for "Outstanding School Spirit" which praised the football Pep Club and cheerleading.

Redskins came for miles around to the annual Spring Pow Wow to eat supper, play games and dance, see a show, elect a Chief and Princess, and buy practically anything.

Our Band's nifty new duds might still be a wishful thought were it not for the active P-TA and Dads Club. After voting to underwrite part of the cost of the uniforms, these groups set to work, like all Moms and Dads, and produced the necessary money with projects like the Pow Wow and Bean Supper.

Barbara Acton and Tom Burk were the Dads' Dotty and Dan at the Bean Supper.

The Marching Band, resplendent in blue trousers, red coats, black-visored hats, and white citation cords and plumes, form a welcoming "aisle" for football team. A refrain of "On, Manual" and a rapid-fire cadence take them off the field.

Varsity cheerleaders Sonja Keating, Gail Wayman, Barbara Haynes, Jim Vance, and Barbara Acton helped win Manual's second "School Spirit" trophy.

Band Captain Bill Henninger, Drum Major Lois Strong, and Cheer Captain Barbara Haynes admire Kiwanis trophies for band, cheerleaders, and Pep Club.

'School Spirit' Wins Second Year

Pep Club Adds Color with Flag Drill

Though school spirit is sort of a "how" topic that rarely gets a headline, one of the Booster's top stories last Fall told of the second consecutive Kiwanis award given to Manual's grid season cheerleaders and Pep Club.

To win the trophy cheerleaders taught new yells and routines to Pep Clubbers, who were faithful fans in white shirts and red ties. Some girls wore shorts, even at the coldest games, to march with the Band in a colorful flag drill.

Football weather can be mighty cold; but Manual's Pep Club, no coats over their white sweatshirts, kept things hot with a rhythmic stamping of feet, frequent clapping of hands, periodic jumping from seats, and almost constant exercise of lungs and vocal cords.

'Brainiest Brawn'

Gridders' Good Grades Earn Scholarship Trophy

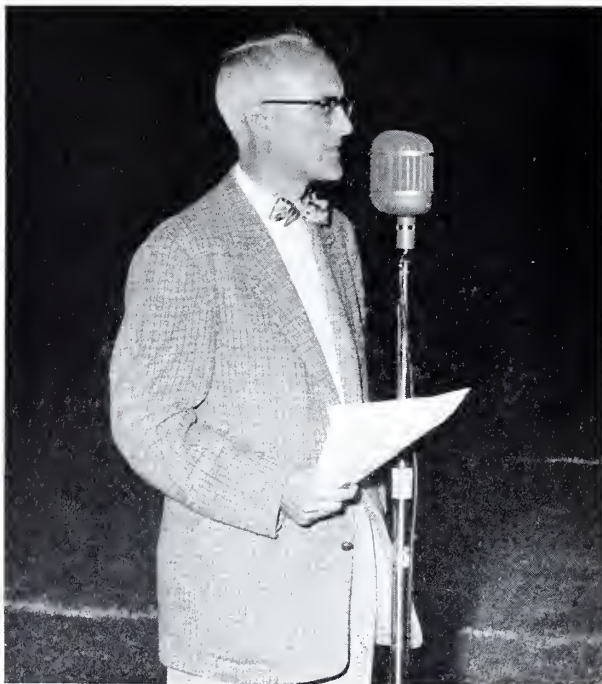

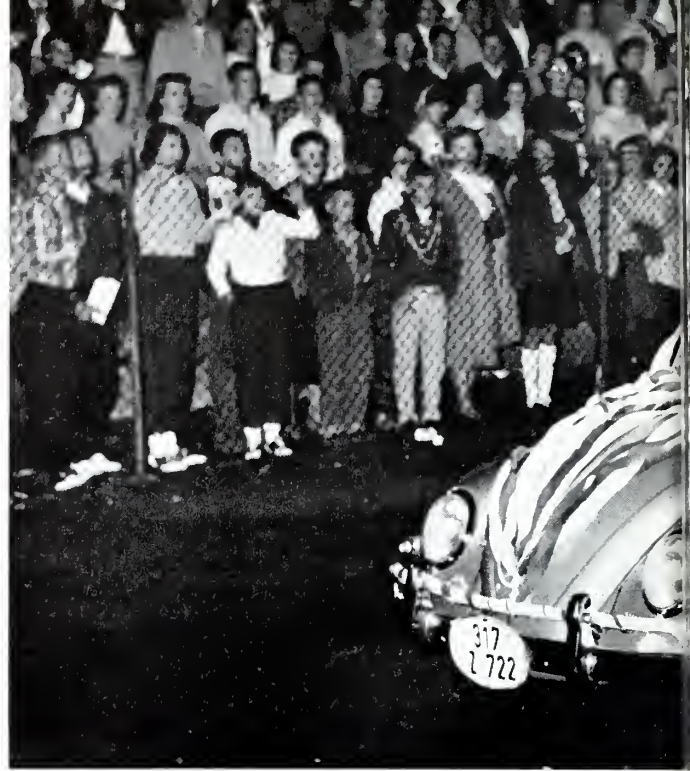

The old adage about an athlete's being all brawn and no brains was disproved by 22 Redskin football players and the Downtown Kiwanis Club. For the first time this year Kiwanians offered a "Football Scholarship Trophy," plus individual citations, to the school whose 22 varsity gridgers ended the season with the highest grade average. Each city high school named 22 regulars and compiled their grade averages at the end of the second marking period. Manual's 5.05 led all the others and brought the school its third Kiwanis trophy in one year. Thus, the football team wrote its part of the year's story. Besides leading the city in scholarship and finishing with a commendable 4-3-2 record, Manual athletes displayed evidence of a belief that it's the "how you play" that counts.

Football players won shiny belt buckles for themselves and a handsome addition to the trophy case by ending their season with a 5.05 grade average. Homecoming Fans Hail Fourth Royal Couple Manualites celebrated Homecoming on October 5, at Delavan Smith Field when the Redskins met Southport. An excited and enthusiastic crowd watched the frenzied action of the game and the half-time extravaganza. The Band, decked out in their new uniforms for the first time, strutted onto the field. The candidates for King and Queen were paraded around the field in colorfully decorated convertibles, and Lois Strong and Tom McCormick were crowned King Manual IV and Queen. Thirty-two members of the Pep Club, carrying banners made in the colors of all the city high schools, performed a snappy drill as one of the highlights of the evening.

Crown-bearing papooses, Sandy Steele and Jack Stanley, smallest girl and boy Freshmen, ride in the "smallest" car to the coronation of the Homecoming Royalty.

Nadine Brehob, 1955 Homecoming Queen, crowns Lois Strong Queen, while Mr. Stahl holds her flower.

In action against Southport, Manual's John Keating carries the ball around the end for a sizeable gain for the Redskins. It was an exciting game, but the Cardinals won, 26-20.

Booster Scores 'Tops' 3 Times Running

NSPA, Columbia, Quill and Scroll — All Rate Our Manual Weekly Newspaper One of Best in Country

The Manual Booster received the highest ranking possible from each of the three national rating services which judge it. The National Scholastic Press Association named The Booster an All-American paper. The Booster scored 280 points over the 3,400 needed to make "All-American." The Booster also received the Medalist Award from Columbia Scholastic Press Association. "Medalist" is equivalent to All-American. The third award won by The Booster was the International Honor Rating, Quill and Scroll's top award.

Editor-in-Chief Miriam Scharfe proudly displays the three awards won by The Booster, Manual's weekly newspaper. The Booster received top ratings from National and Columbia Scholastic Press Associations and Quill and Scroll.

Paul Schnepf calls the roll for voting during the "Redskin Party" Convention as Chairman Jon Potter stands by. The "Convention" was in a regular auditorium program to promote Ivian sales.

Ivian, Our Best Seller

An Auditorium is presented at the beginning of each Fall semester to promote Ivian sales. This year it was a political campaign, with nominating speeches for the favorite candidate, The Ivian, and a roll call of delegates (Home Room agents). The annual "Pic-Parade," a dance at which Underclass pictures are sold, is a money-making project to defray some of the yearbook's costs.

Manualites elected John Keating and Barbara Haynes as King Ivan and Queen Ann at the "Pic-Parade" dance.

Traditionally, Senior Day begins the formal acknowledgement of class officers by the seniors and school administration. Principal C. Edgar Stahl presents the gavel to President Tom McCormick while Rose McCombs, secretary, and Barbara Acton, vice-president stand by.

Class of '57 Has Its Big Day

Senior Day, the day every Manualite anticipates for four years, officially opened senior activities on November 13. A special Home Room ceremony and an after-school party and dance were highlights of the day for the 1957 seniors, sporting arm bands, honorary "shields," and roses.

President Tom McCormick pins the first arm band on Carole Wingo, its designer, during Senior Day Home Room ceremonies.

Manual Counsels Students to Plan Ahead

One of the hardest things seniors must decide is what to do after graduation. On October 17 seniors met with their parents for a guidance session on choosing colleges and vocations. Underclassmen may get a head start on this choice on Opportunity Day, now an annual event. After hearing an Auditorium speaker urge planning for the future, representatives from various vocations and colleges visit Manual in January for counseling. Each student elects a group and attends a 40-minute discussion with that representative.

Redskins Hear 'Go to College' Advice

In the Library on Opportunity Day Manualites hear about the advantages of attending college from one of the university guidance and enlistment representatives. A question and answer period after the formal explanation helped students decide if this was the school for them.

Count Berezouski (Dave Koepper) informs Fresco (Howard Smiley) and his ballet corps that Livonia will be bankrupt unless he can locate a missing Lottery ticket. This scene shows a complete view of the stage and scenery which was made by the Stage Craft Class and Stage Crew.

Joy Schreiber, costume chairman, mends a last-minute tear in Donna Barker's costume while Linda Schulz patiently waits her turn.

"Gypsy Love Song," a familiar melody from the "Fortune Teller," is sung by Musette (Linda Bloemker) and Sandor (John Carroll.)

The Music Department presented the operetta, "The Fortune Teller," by Victor Herbert, November 21 in our Auditorium. The operetta concerned an intriguing mystery of locating a lost Lottery ticket in order to prevent Livonia, a mythical country, from going bankrupt. Mr. Harry Henderson directed the show.

The entire cast joins in the singing of the finale "Romany Life," as the operetta comes to a close.

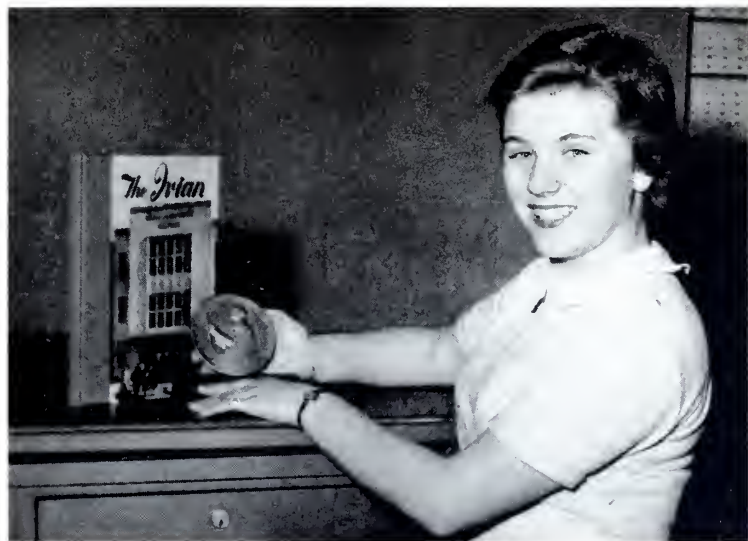

Miriam Scharfe receives an orchid from the Booster Staff as a send-off present when she visited the UN with representatives from the other city high schools in October.

Manual Sends Envoys Near and Far

Gordon Harnack was presented a $100 check by Mayor Phillip L. Bayt for his winning essay in the B'nai B'Rith Contest.

Manualites represented their school well throughout the year by entering contests and participating in school-affiliated activities. The annual UN trek is a "big moment" for some lucky Senior, this year Booster Editor Miriam Scharfe, and Manual's first Freedoms Foundation Award came to the 1956 Ivian.

Teddy Winckelbach accepted the George Washington Honor Medal and a $100 check from the Freedoms Foundation for the 1956 Ivian.

A huge Christmas Wreath, hung over the entrance to the Auditorium foyer, was a Christmas gift to Manual from the Roines club. The wreath which can be taken apart and stored for future years, was hauled into place amid much excitement with the help of Captain Jack O'Leary of Station House 3 and the Hook and Ladder Wagon from Station House 17.

The "Snow Whirl," traditional Winter formal dance sponsored by the Choir, made its bow on December 15. Vic Knight and his Sextet provided the music for a gay evening

Yule Cheer Spreads

The Holidays found Manualites busy spreading Christmas Cheer. Many of Manual's service organizations made useful and decorative items for hospitals and packed baskets for needy families.

The Cafeteria was decorated in a myriad of star-shaped snowflakes, made by Manual's Art Production Class, and the traditional Yuletide symbols. Punch and cookies were served.

The Choir was honored this year by being asked to sing for United Nations Day, October 24 on the Monument Circle. Several exchange students from countries all over the world, dressed in their native costumes, were there. Highlight of the program was a long-distance telephone address by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, broadcast to the audience over a PA system.

Music Groups Perform for Community

National Honor Society candidates, 34 seniors and 13 juniors, were seated on the stage during the formal installation ceremony.

Mrs. Thelma Morgan, Activities Director, and Miss Carol Snyder, NHS sponsor, presented pins to new members. Ruth Agan is receiving hers.

EMTHS Chapter Installed With 47 Charter Members

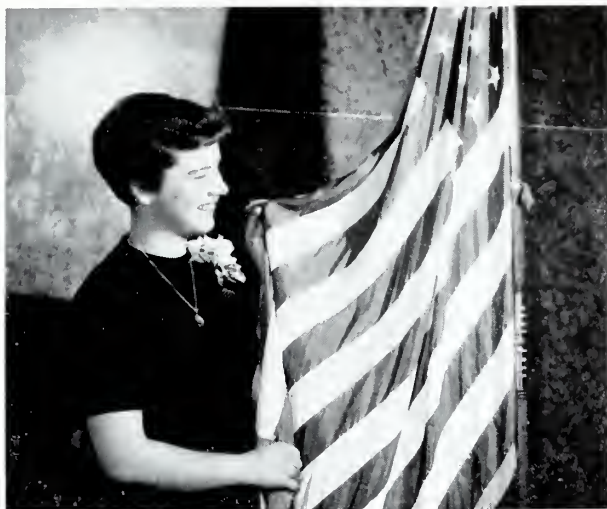

A flaming symbolic torch, 47 pledges being initiated, and a reception in the Library for parents and guests were high points of the installation of the EMTHS National Honor Society Chapter on Sunday, May 27, 1956.

The tea table at the NHS reception, decked with red carnations and smilax, a fountain centerpiece that actually bubbled, and a tempting array of hors d'oeuvres, looked like a picture from a magazine.

Parents and friends were greeted by the new initiates and faculty members in a receiving line in the Library.

DAR Choice and Ours

Miriam Scharfe, editor-in-chief of The Booster, was Manual's DAR Good Citizen. Her citizenship essay test was sent to the Caroline Scott Harrison DAR chapter, where it won over entries from five other schools. Miriam's paper was later picked as district winner and finally placed second in the state judging.

'In-Cased' Trophies Gleam

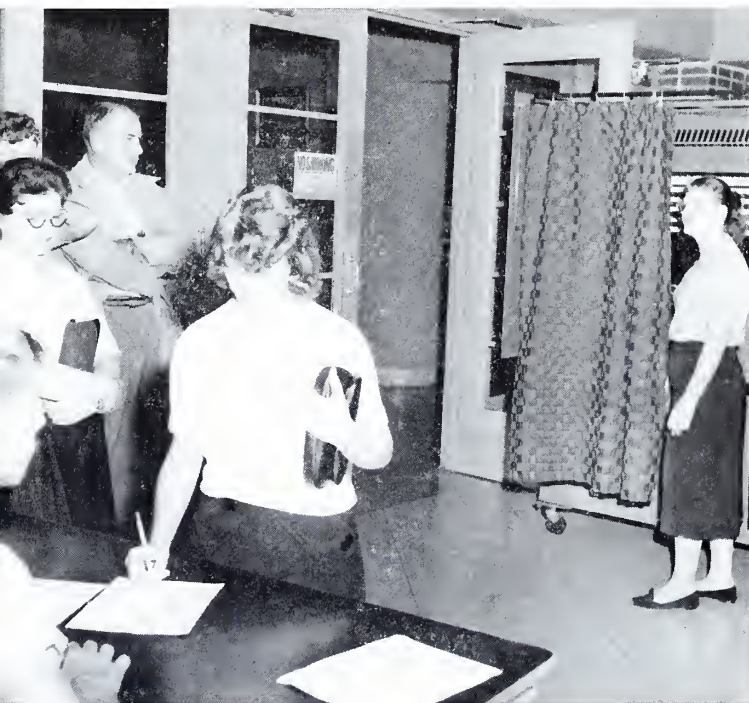

Manual's half a hundred trophies were dug out of storage and housed in the new trophy case, a gift from several senior classes. Trophies, dating back to 1903, were cleaned and polished by Masomas, shown right busy finishing the job. Below Brenda Church and Richard Locke admire the finished product in the east entrance to the Auditorium foyer.

While studying economics, Mrs. Edna Gullett's Problems Class took a trip to a near-by brokerage to learn about the stock market. While they were there, they purchased a share of stock in General Motors. Jim Shimp examines some ticker tape as other members of the class look on.

Manualites Go to Polls for Straw Election

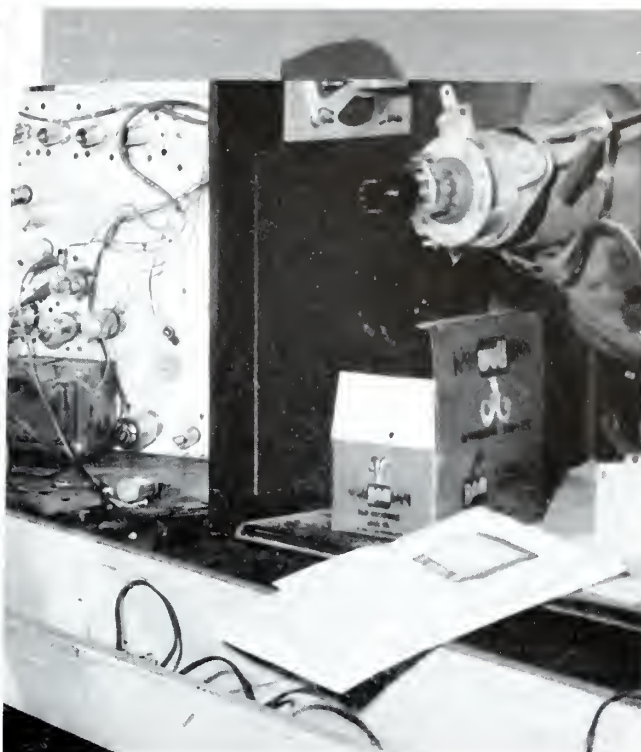

To impress upon students the importance of being regular voters, Manualites had a chance to try their hand at voting for their favorite candidate in November when the Presidential elections were taking place. Voting machines were brought in to be used for history classes and the Australian Ballot was used for non-history students. At left, members of Mr. Harry Painter's class are registering and voting.

Activity Earns Credits

The Cadet Teaching Program is growing every year under the direction of Mr. E. Franklin Fisher. Thirty-one students "teaching" various subjects at Manual and at near-by grade schools. The Cadet Teachers are deciding whether or not they are cut out for a future of teaching. It gives them an opportunity to see the "teachers' side" of things, too. Most Manual departments have one or two Cadet Teachers who, at different intervals, teach classes, give tests, grade papers, and do anything in the line of duty.

Sandra Wesley checks in properties as Gary Beplay, Fred Dindinger, John Swartz, and Paul Barnes store them on the new Lumber Storage Rack recently added to the stage facilities. All are members of the Stage Craft Class.

Manualites Put Studies to Use by Serving

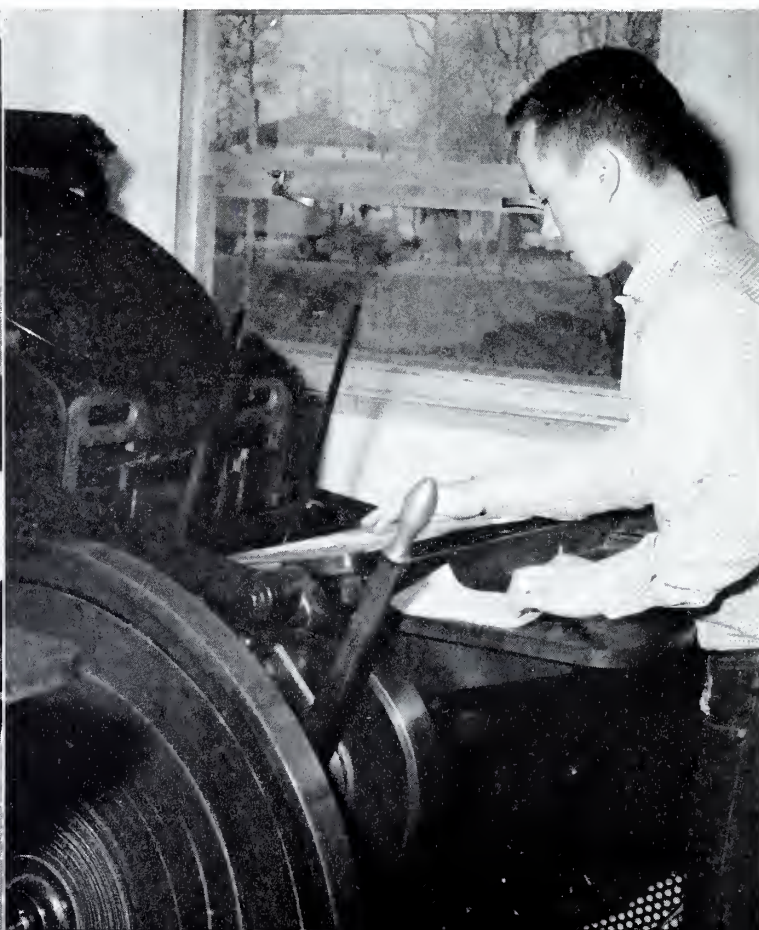

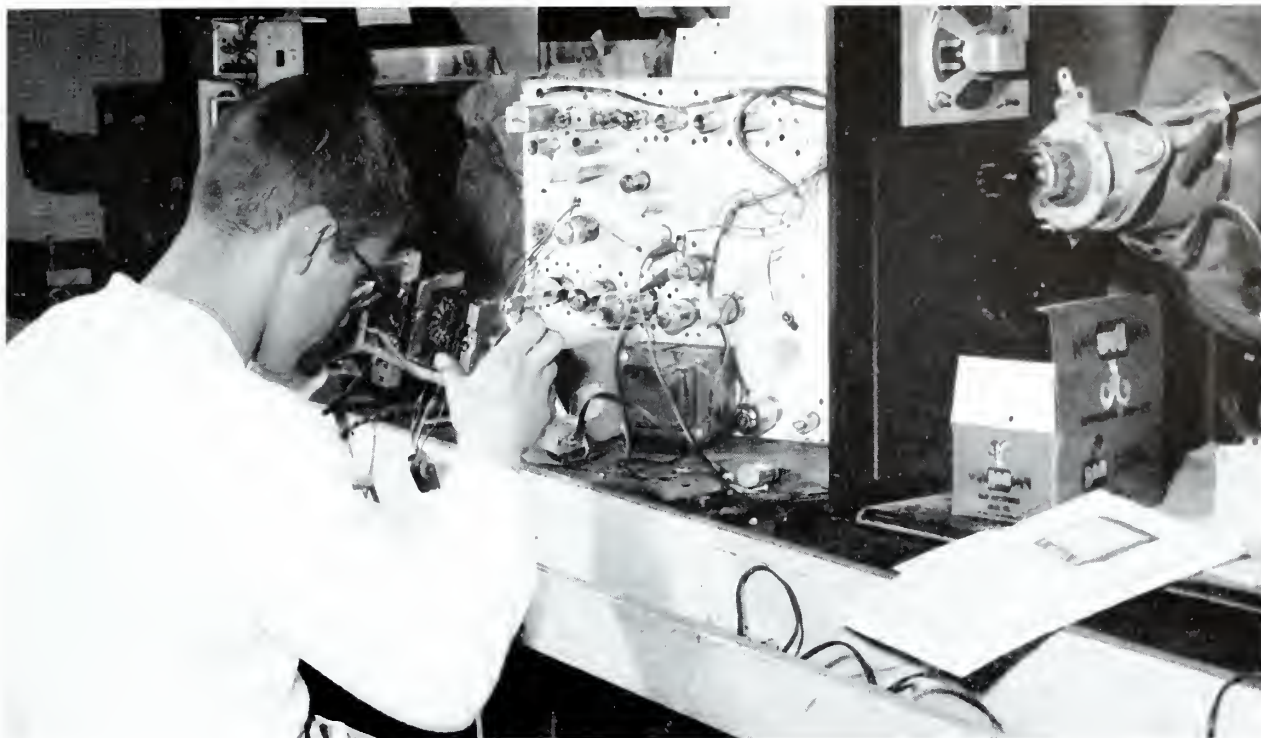

While studying economics, Mrs. Edna Gullett's Problems Class t While they were there, they purchased a share of stock in Gene bers of the class look on.

Many Manual pupils and classes use their services and handiwork to the advantage of the school and themselves. Some pupils spend free periods serving as assistants in various departments where they learn new skills or practice ones they are studying. Classes in Art, Home Economics, Shop, and Business come in handy in providing pupils with know-how for school needs. And this learning-by-doing routine proves a valuable teaching method that gives Manualites real practice for future jobs and hobbies.

The Art Production Class produces many of the posters used to publicize school events. Here, Wayne Kimmell letters a poster for a senior dance. Gerry DeHoney and Bob Napper examine their award-winning exhibits for the Science Fair. Gerry's experiment was microphotography. He took pictures of a human hair magnified 450 times, a bee's antenna magnified 300 times, and other tiny objects. Bob conducted a study of cycloidal curves and cycloids for his entry.

Science Fair Develops Pupil Initiative

Showing everything from a mouse in a maze to complicated sulphonic acid reactions, pupils of chemistry, biology, and physics classes entered their projects in the annual Science Fair, April 9. Thirty-eight Manual "scientists" won red ribbons when exhibits were judged.

A study of photosynthesis, the process of food manufacturing that all plants must perform to live, was Larry Hamner's entry in the Science Fair. Larry later entered his project in the Regional Science Fair.

Working with sulphonic acid is a simple way of describing Mike Steadham's complicated chemistry project. Mike won a red ribbon in the Science Fair, and later entered it in the Regional contest.

Looking over their Science Fair entry, examples of molds, are Biology Students Steve Wright and Ray Schultz. These boys won a red ribbon on their project. Trying to discover what effect certain minerals have on plants are Jon Morris and Ralph Gurley. These boys used potted geranium plants as their subjects and observed the growth of the plant to determine the effect of minerals.

Classes Go Visiting

The Science Fair was open to the entire school. Science classes spent their regular periods visiting exhibits of other classes and each of Mr. Wayne Kincaid's Chemistry pupils personally conducted an underclassman through the Chem Lab. Twenty of the best projects were displayed later at the Central Indiana Regional Science Fair.

Biologists tried a new type of project this year. A cancerous cell was injected into a live baby chick, and then the subject was dissected and studied by biology students. Here, Martha Rippy, Bob Brock, Harold Carlare, and Mrs. Nancy Faruki examine the "guinea chick." This project was also entered in the Regional Science Fair.

One of the special numbers in the act "It's A Great Day" was a vocal duet and dance by Teddy Winkelbach and Linda Bloemker.

The Best Comedienne award was won by Bonnie Burton for her pantomime of "Eloise," in the act "To the Rear March."

Many Manualites Present Four Original Acts

Texas was one of the places visited in "Vagabond Honeymoon." Here Howard Smiley leads a chorus of cowboys and cowgirls in a rousing chorus of "Deep in the Heart of Texas." Howard won the trophy for the best male performer.

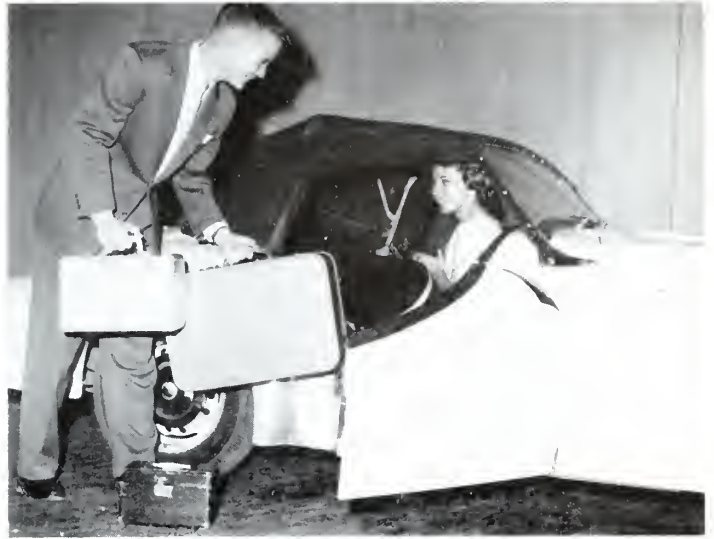

The unusual finale of sweeping the circus spotlight off the stage in "The Last Performance" was performed by Frank Klobucar.

In Redskin Revue

The 28th annual all-school show, for three years now the Redskin Revue, was presented in our Auditorium March 8 and 9. The acts making up the show were "Vagabond Honeymoon," Livia Saulgozis and Vincena Hughett; "To the Rear March!" Gloria Bowers and Bette Pierson; "The Last Performance," Cathy Burger and Billie Sue Clark; "It's A Great Day," Linda Bloemker and Teddy Winckelbach. The winning act, which was chosen on Saturday night, was "It's A Great Day."

Couples "Singing In the Rain" from "It's A Great Day," are (seated) Margie Noe, Larry Lee, Arlene Hedegard, Butch Williams. Standing: John Keating, Martha Edmonds, Kent Klinge, Linda Snellenberger.

"Vagabond Honeymoon," centered about a newly-married couple, Judy Schrader and Don Kerner, and their journeys on their wedding trip.

Staff members of Manual's weekly "Booster," shown at work in the Publications Office, first get our stories into print. With a "nose for news," reporters cover the activities of the school's many organizations, whose members provide the "who" for many a headline.

Serving Manual is the main objective of the two senior honorary organizations, Masoma for girls, and Roines for boys, founded back in 1914. Helping underclassmen become acclimated to the school and assisting faculty and guests on numerous occasions are part of their self-assumed duties. Manual's newest honor group, the National Honor Society, is only one year old. This organization bases its membership on character, scholarship, leadership, and service, and presents new members in May at a special auditorium program.

Student Board Backs All-School Activities

Manual's Student Affairs Board is chiefly concerned with the welfare of the student body. The Board includes members of the four classes and serves as "middleman" between the school's administration and the student body. It supervises all elections and sponsors after-game dances and freshman mixers where the freshmen can get to know one another.

At the right, Manualites jitterbug, sip Cokes, and talk over the game at an SAB dance after a basketball game.

Stage Curtain Goes Up

National Thespian Troupe No. 1492 and Mask and Wig are Manual's dramatic organizations. Thespians is an honorary which a student works up to through points earned by participating in dramatic activities and being a member of Mask and Wig. The two clubs were hosts for the State Forensic Contest at Manual, May 4, which was attended by several hundred high school speech pupils.

National Thespians and 'Mask and Wig'

Mask and Wig and National Thespians are very active clubs. They each have regular meetings at which members are entertained by speakers and dramatic skits, besides their other activities.

For Redskin Dramatists

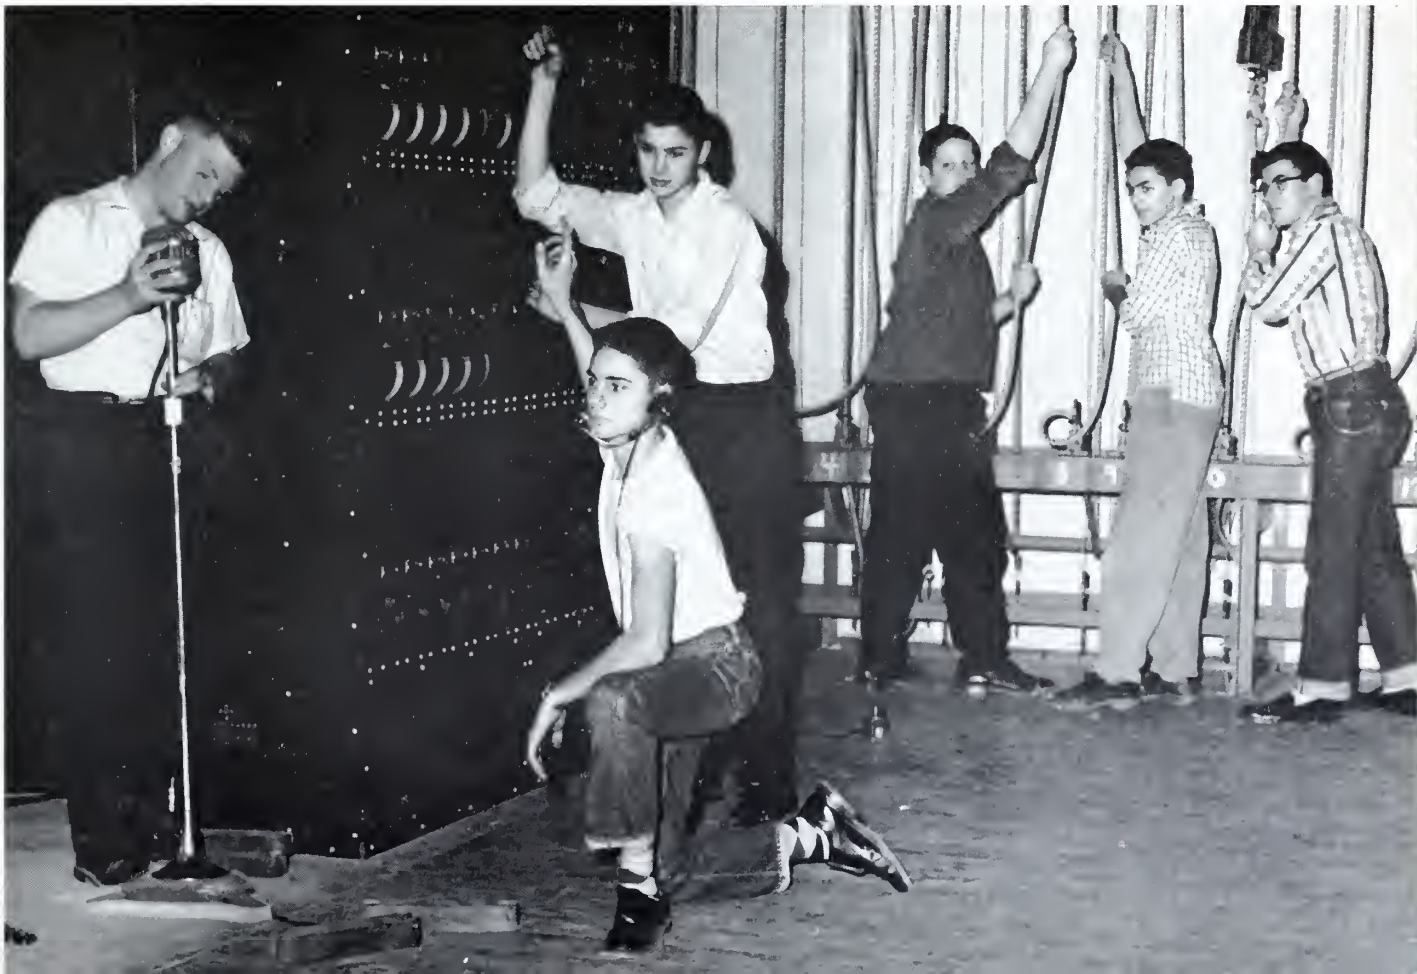

Mask and Wig presented its big production of the year, October 20. "Penny," a three-act comedy, was given in our Auditorium. On December 12, under the direction of a student teacher, Mr. Don Thomas, Mask and Wig presented "The Bridegroom Waits," a one-act comedy. This same production was repeated that evening for a party at which parents and friends of Mask and Wig members were honored.

Stage Crew Aid Shows

Radio Speech Club

There is very little chance of a blue Monday or of any other day's being blue around Manual. Every morning at 7:55, Redskins are greeted over the P.A. with music, interviews, and news about school from station WMHS in Manual's own studio. Members of Radio Speech Club act as technicians and program directors.

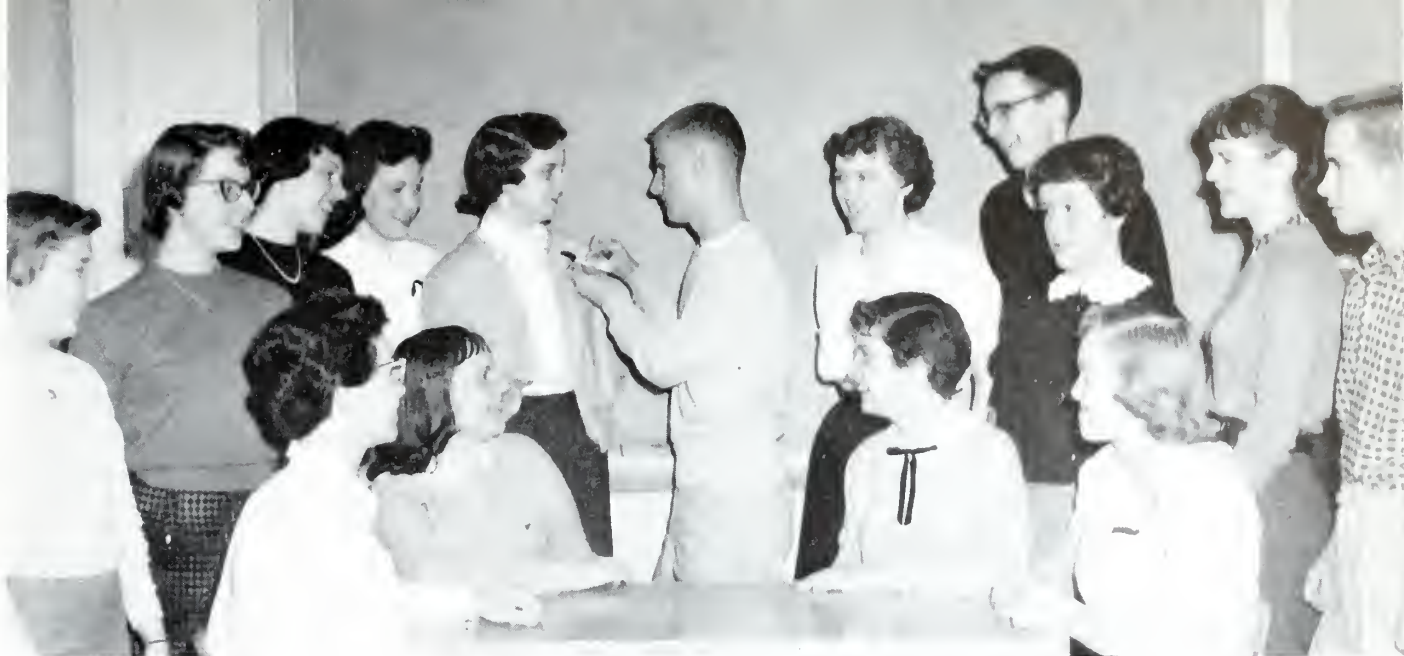

Linda Schulz and John Swartz, WMHS staff members, receive some pointers on radio "engineering" from Mr. Don Sandberg, radio speech teacher and supervisor.

Manual Musicians Stress

Manual's band is a versatile one. During the Fall semester, it is a marching band and this year there were 85 members resplendent in bright new uniforms. The flashy color guard marches in front of the band carrying the flags of the United States, Indiana, and Manual. The flanking girls bear chrome-plated swords. Second semester, the band becomes a concert band. Manualites found out how good this concert band really is when it entertained the whole school with an auditorium program.

Precision in Cadence and Concert

Glee-ettes is a special group of girls from the Glee Club. Directed by Miss Freda Hart, these girls have sung at many school and community events. This group also entertains for school parties and club meetings. At Christmas-time, they annually sing for the Old Folks Home, Julietta. In April, the girls combined their voices with those of the other Manual musicians at the Easter auditorium.

Uniformed Cadets Guide at Manual

More than 200 cadets have been enrolled in ROTC this year. Well-trained in carriage and deportment, these "men" serve as ushers, doormen, guides, and official escorts around school. During school programs, the cadet color guard posts the colors. Another duty performed by the members of this unit is caring for the school flag.

OFFICER'S CLUB—FRONT ROW: Bill Disbro, Dave Koepper, Brice Tressler, Ned Woolbright, Carl Lasley. SECOND ROW: Arnold Shaw, Ned Meader, Lawrence Fry, Jackie Clark, Paul Frodge. History Club Reviews Wars

ROTC cadets can further their special interests by joining the Rifle Team or the History Club. Any cadet who is a good marksman can try out for the Rifle Team. In the History Club, cadets study United States military history. Members attend monthly lectures and must read a prescribed number of books. Adding charm and beauty to the unit are six ROTC sponsors. Each Friday, one of these girls inspects the battalion to keep the boys looking sharp.

Future Homemakers

One project of the Junior Red Cross was making stuffed animals for Hungarian refugee children at Camp Kilmer, N. J. Below, the girls select their materials for a "sewing meeting."

Redskins join clubs which have purposes as varied as the Redskins' interests. Departmental groups like FHA, Spanish Club, and Swords Club (they're sharp with words), encourage wider interests and develop talent. Whether planning a vocation in the subject or not, members acquire knowledge beyond the classroom from organizations like these.

Sharing the Junior Red Cross reputation for lending a helping hand are other Manual clubs which emphasize service and character growth. Future Nurses of America started a chapter this year, and the YWCA-sponsored Y-Teens were re-organized.

Manual has had her ups and downs in sports, but school spirit stays at a high pitch. This year's teams broke fairly even, and prospects for next year look promising. Student managers, like those setting hurdles for a track meet, exemplify the loyalty of Redskins, both "bench" and "headline" variety.

Gridiron Varsity Captures Winning Season

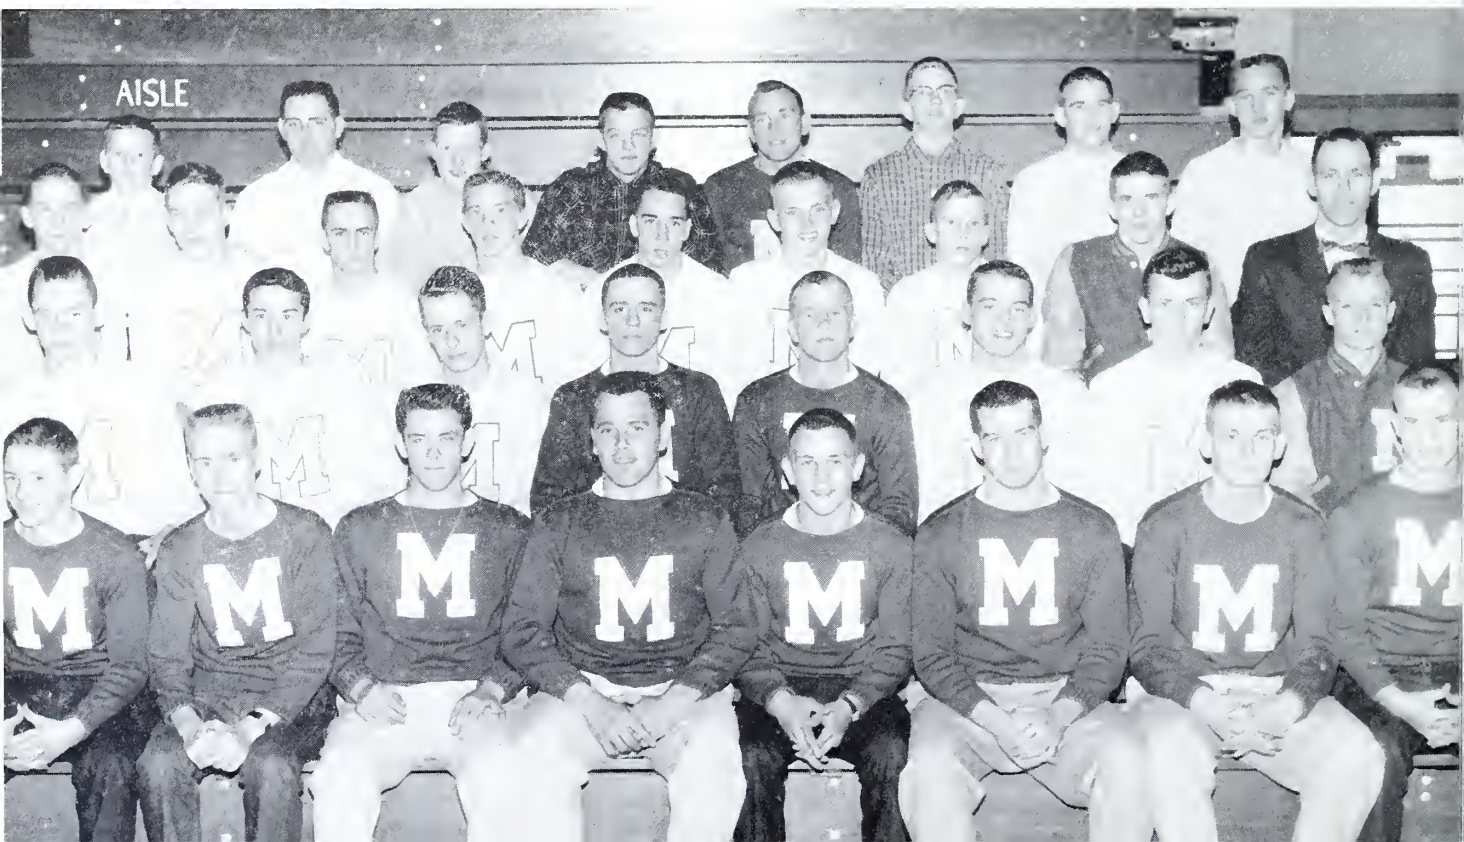

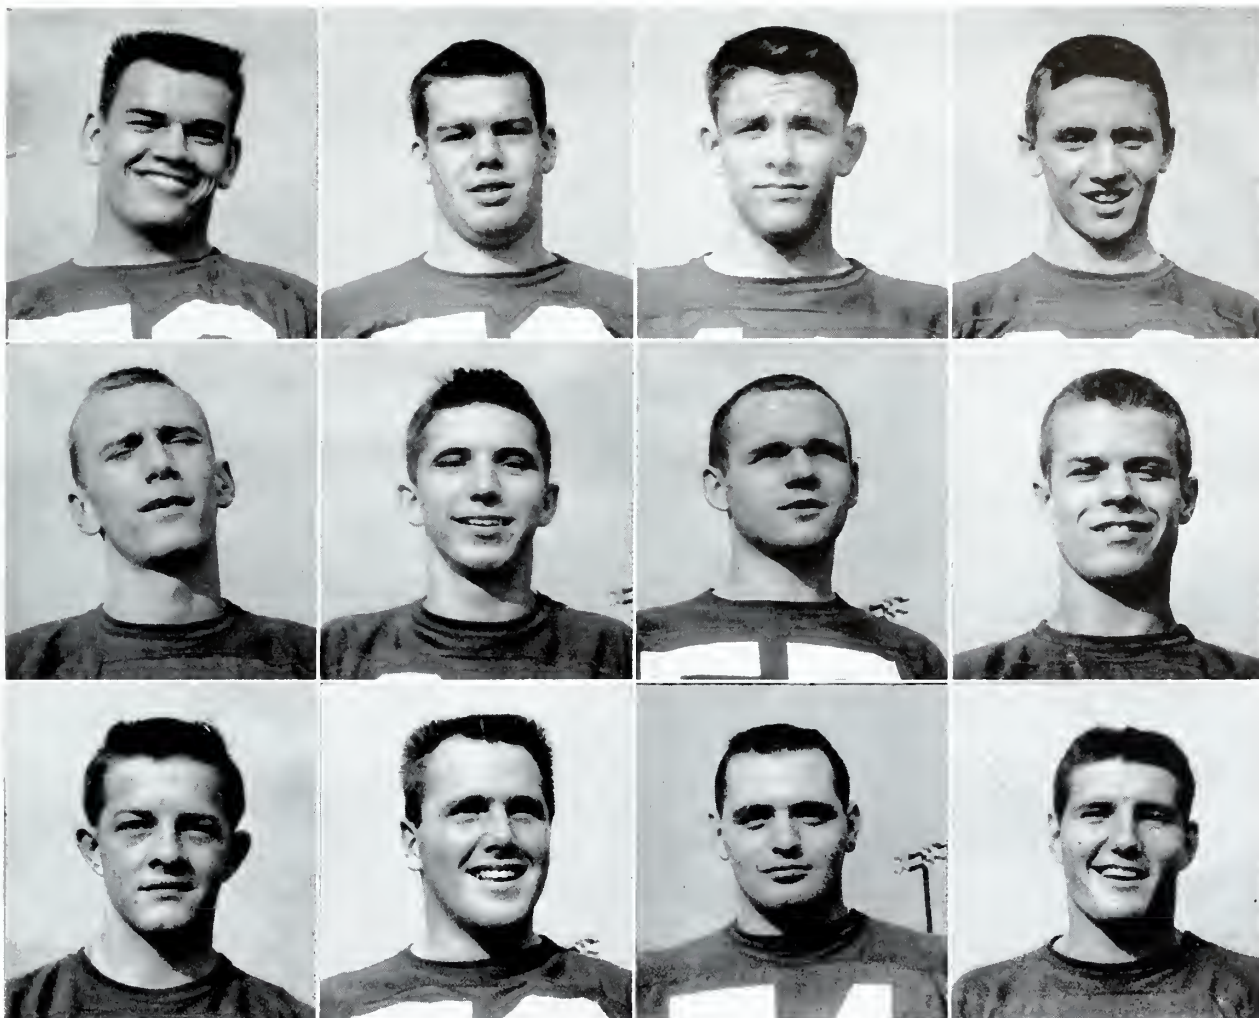

Recipient of the Football Most Valuable Player Trophy was Pat Clancy, grid captain. Pat was also chosen for the All-City Team.

Football opened Manual's well-balanced athletic program with flying colors as the 1956 Redskin eleven finished a 4-3-2 season, their most successful year since the 1948 campaign. The gridders, coached by Mr. Noah Ellis, kicked off the season with three successive tie games, matching Tech in the City Jamboree, 0-0, and Sacred Heart, 21-21. The third tie was fought against Washington, 0-0.

After the standstill contests, the tide turned for Manual as the 'Skins slapped consecutive shutouts on Howe, 20-0, and Warren Central, 21-0. Their first defeat of the season was administered by Southport, 26-20, before a Homecoming crowd.

Football Future Looks Promising

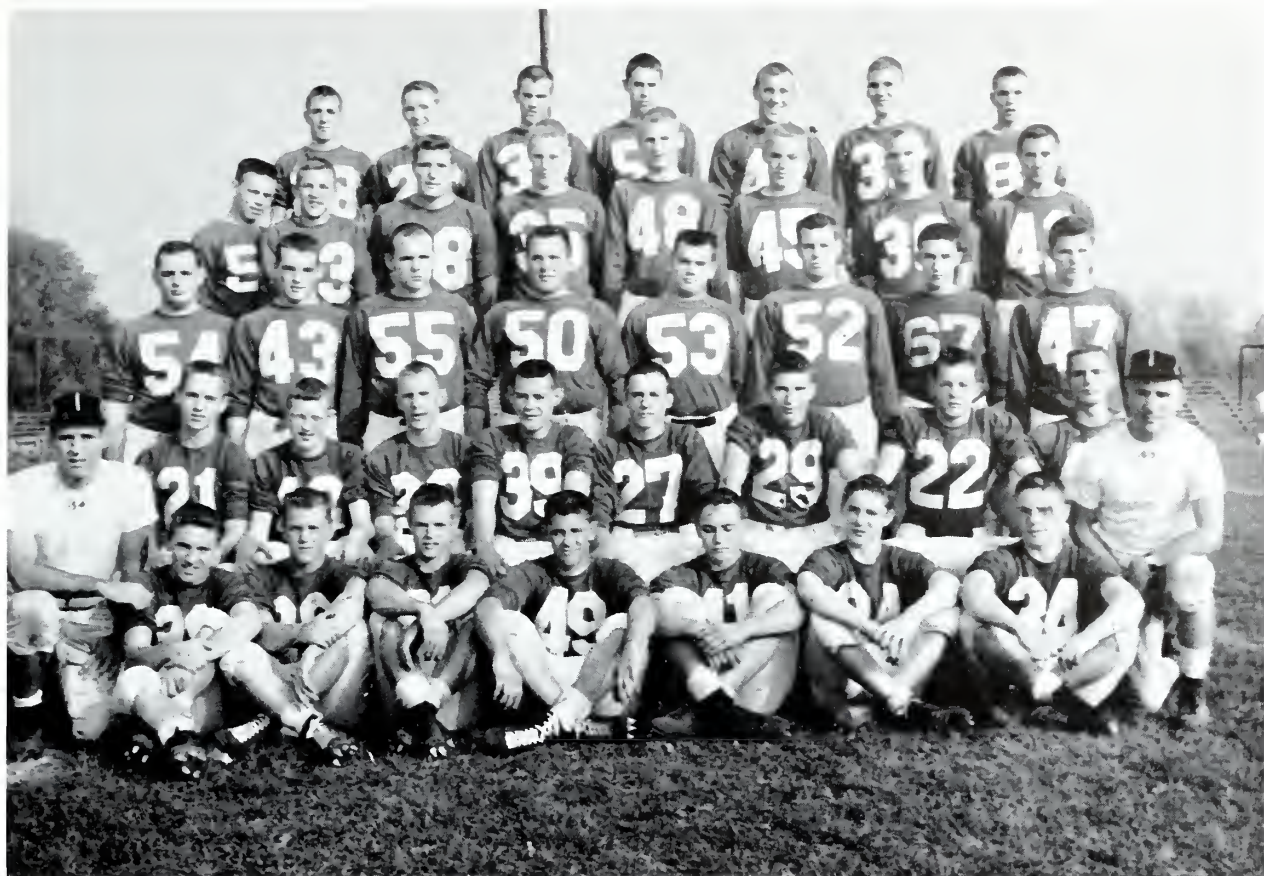

The Redskins split their final four contests of the season, thumping Ben Davis 26-7, while losing to Broad Ripple and Shortridge, 13-6 and 6-0 respectively. The season was climaxed by a 29-13 victory over Crispus Attucks.

Senior halfback, John Keating, led the Manual scoring attack with seven touchdowns for 42 points. Jim Finchum was runner-up with 25 tallies.

A bright future seems to be in store for Manual since the reserve gridders displayed a clean, six-game slate, averaging 32.33 points a game against 8.33 for their opponents.

Manual's frosh gridgers also wound up on top in the won-lost column, finishing a winning 4-3 season.

Senior halfback, Johnny Keating (55), skips up the gridiron for Redskin yardage, as Dave Miller (20) gets set to take out an opponent. Our Redskin team was a flashy one, keeping the fans up and down during the course of the game.

Manual Gridders Supply Many Thrills

Manual's gridders outscored their opponents 141-87 and were a strong-hold in the city race, not officially eliminated from the title until the loss to Broad Ripple, Oct. 6.

Fullback Dave Oliver is stopped after a short gain as Jim Finchum (56) hurries to the scene.

Tony Uuk, Larry Elslager, and Paul Scudder complete practice on the cross-country course.

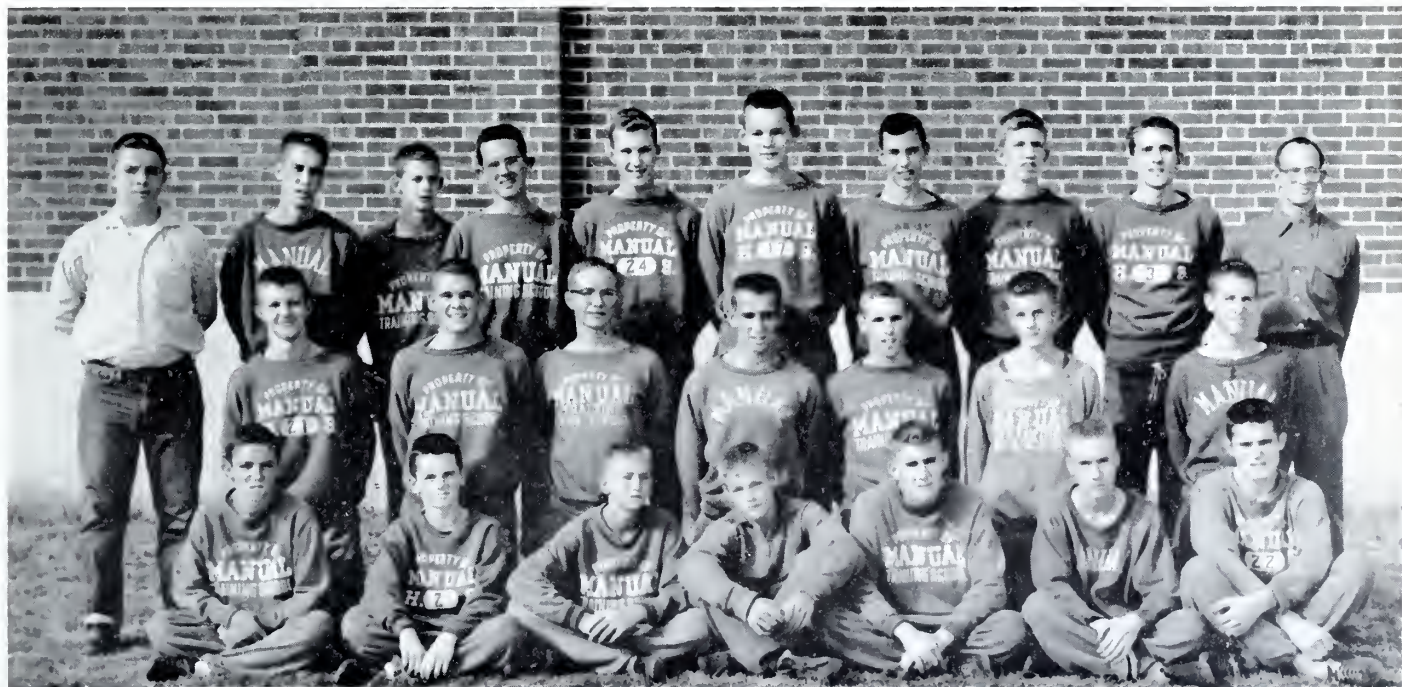

Cross Country

Manual's thinly-clads, coached by Jack Foster, turned in an impressive season winning their share of dual and triangular meets. A bright future is also expected in this sport since the squad was composed of underclassmen.

Netters Dip Below .500

The Redskin netters under the guidance of Coach Dick Cummins dipped below the .500 mark with nine victories out of 21 tries on the hardwood during the 1956-57 season. Although the 'Skins lost over half of their games, only two players will be lost by graduation. They are Pat Clancy and Tom Burk.

Center Ron Miller goes for the bucket as Earl Schopp (43) of Broad Ripple moves in. Tom Burk, partially hidden, readies himself for action.

With 9-12 Record

In the individual departments Sophomore Ron Miller was cited as the most valuable player, while Erv Bultman was awarded the free throw trophy. Miller was the leading scorer with 252 points for a 12.6 average, a rank of sixteenth in the city. Bultman scored 201 points, and Clancy hit for 163.

Tusslers Continue Upward Drive, Win Eight

Manual's wrestlers continued on an upward drive during the 1956-57 wrestling season, registering eight wins, against five setbacks and a sixth place in the state tourney. The 'Skins coached by Jack Foster and Jack Johns are still considered a comparatively young squad, although they have displayed meritable records in their four campaigns.

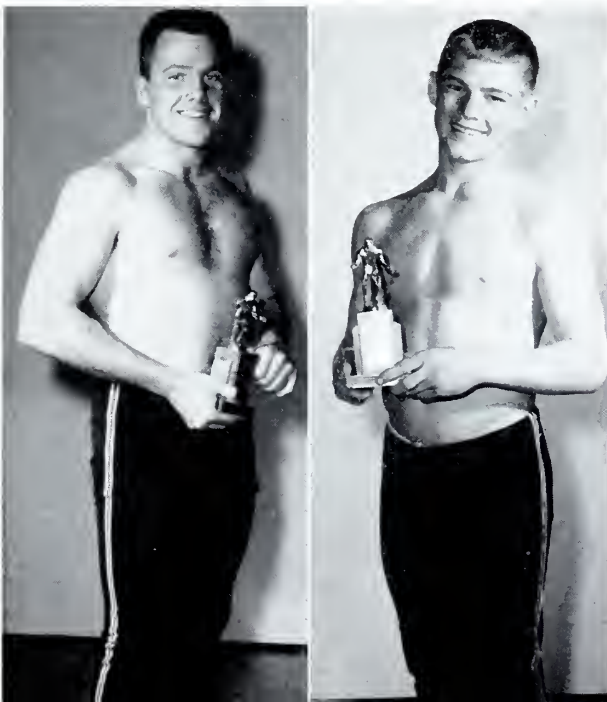

Besides the fine state performance, the tusslers placed fourth in the Lafayette Sectional with 48 points behind champs Bill Andrews and Morrie Bush, and runnerup Bill Disbro. Frank Klobucar and Larry McHenry finished fourth. Wrestling, newest major sport, ranks high in popularity because it offers the fairest competition as each boy is pitted against an equal in weight.

One of Manual's many bright lights of the wrestling season was Bill Andrews, who successfully clinched the 103-pound state championship title. During the regular season Bill won ten of twelve matches, nine of which were won by falls.

Morrie Bush was another standout for the grapplers, being runnerup in the 175-pound class in the state tourney. Morrie and Bill are shown left with their trophies.

Bob Lindemann, Bob Snoddy, and Ronnie Price compete in the City Track Meet.

Veterans Pace Tracksters to Winning Year

Manual's tracksters, blessed by a nucleus of veterans during the 1956 track season, displayed winning abilities, beating Lawrence Central and Brownsburg in dual contests, and routing Secцина-Greenwood and Plainfield-Decatur Central in triangular meets.

Runners in the City Track Meet: John Keating, Jim Petree and Carl Short, George Smallwood.

The Redskins placed fourth in the Washington Sectional, with John Keating winning second in the 100 and broad jump. Joe Caruso tied for third in the pole vault, and Jim Petree and Morrie Bush finished fourth in the mile run and shot-put, respectively. George Smallwood, Caruso, Howard Smiley, and Keating carried the half-mile team home second.

Baseball Team Loses to Eight, Conquers Five

The 1956 diamondmen found the going tough displaying a 5-8 record. The reserves did better, however, with a clean break in 10 games, for a 5-5 mark. But with the return of Lettermen Kent Klinge, Roland Hankins, Benny Townsend, Paul Schoch, and Rog Roembke the Redskins had an excellent chance this year to boost their record.

Linksters Break Even

The Redskin linksmen broke even in six dual contests on the green in 1956, bettering Lawrence Central, Crispus Attucks, and Ben Davis. Seymour, Scecina, and Cathedral defeated the Redskins.

Manual, coached by Oral Bridgford, placed seventh in a field of 18 in the Southern Indiana Tourney and finished eighth in the Marion County Tourney.

Active Sports-Minded Girls Have 'Ball' on Table,

Redskins, of course, participate in archery. The above archers are: Sharon Ford, Emily Tague, Donna Parrish, Judy Schoenherr, Alma King, Nancy Hayt, Margie Viehe, Frances Stewart, Patricia Hickman.

In the "activities" room of the girl's gymnasium, Beverly Bruhn and Jackie Anderson participate in a game of table tennis.

Court, Floor, and Field

Besides their regular gym class activities, Manual girls participate in a diversified intra-mural sports program. The girls went to Garfield Park for tennis and archery last fall when weather permitted. One day a week, they went to Sarah Shank Golf Course for a round of nine holes. During the winter months, sports-minded girls joined one of the teams in the Girls' Bowling League. Spring sports include badminton, softball, ping pong, golf, and tennis. Miss Theo Parr and Miss Elena Raglin sponsor all girls' sports.

"Volley Ball ballet" seems to be a good title for this picture. The "ballerinas" include Peggy Knight, Marie Huddleston, and Doris Grider.

Gym classes often participate in a fast game of volley ball, which is a favorite among Manual girls. Here Gail Ray anxiously waits for the ball to come over on her side of the net. Keen competition makes this a good sport.

People make the news. No wonder we have so much of it, with all the faces featured in the next 48 pages actually belonging to Manualites. From the most sophisticated senior to the smallest eighth grader, all are important in the overall Manual story.

Mrs. Coral T. Black, chosen by her Manual Faculty cohorts as "the representative teacher," is presented a corsage by Kent Klinge, president of Student Affairs Board, at the American Education Week Aud. We consider Mrs. Black a wise choice. She represents Manual's fine faculty well because she is a dedicated teacher. A Manual graduate, she has taught school since 1912, with two years out for advanced study. She came to Manual as a faculty member in 1923.

Faculty sponsors of the four Redskin Revue acts join in "joshing" Mr. Millard Arnold, who helped supervise the winning "Great Day" sequence of this year's Revue. The teacher sponsors, two for each act, getting in on the "kibitzing" are Mr. James Guillaume, Miss Mary Anna Rose, Mr. Robert Crawford, Mr. Arnold, Mrs. Frances Stewart, Miss Freda Hart, and Mr. Ben Parke. Mrs. Nancy Faruki, co-sponsor of "Great Day," was absent when the picture was taken.

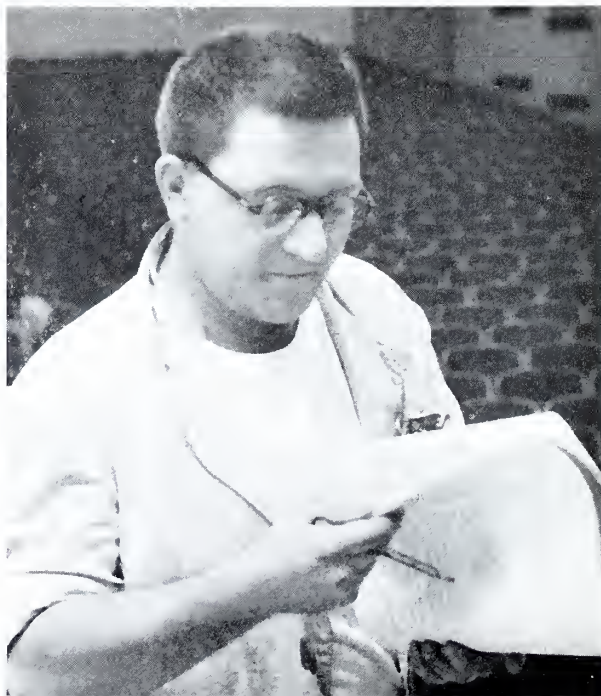

Teachers Work Overtime to Promote Manual

"That's my gang," Mr. Harry Henderson can't help smiling his approval during a high point in "The Fortune Teller." Mr. Henderson conducted the operetta orchestra and singers from this vantage point in the pit.

Mr. Don Sandberg, Director of Productions, works with the student Stage Crew at every performance on Manual's stage. Here, he checks a few of the endless details that are essential before the curtain goes up.

The classroom is only one area where teachers perform duties. Faculty members put in many extra hours after school to insure the success of some student project. No matter what "their line is," Manual teachers sponsor clubs, chaperone dances and picnics, supervise shows, and help plan election campaigns—and consider it all part of a day's work.

Faculty Helps Make Headlines

Behind many a school headline is a teacher who helped "make the news" of headline proportions. Manual teachers give up many free hours in order to sponsor pupils and pupil projects in contests or to help them attend various regional and state-wide conferences. The pupils who represented Manual in these events know the value in competition and in observing new techniques, thanks to some teacher's interest outside the classroom.

A few bars "our" are welcome rest to Mr. William Kleyla and his versatile Dance Band, who were in demand at many school performances and dances.

Redskin Staff Assists With Eighth Grade

Some faculty members acquired new duties when the Student Body added three rooms of 8th graders. The "papooses" needed to learn a little art, music, physical education, home economics, and general shop. "Papoose" teachers are, SEATED: Mr. Harold Bennett, Mr. Oran Davis, Miss Elena Raglin, Miss Nancy Rutledge; STANDING: Miss Freda Hart and Mr. John Edwards. Mrs. Betty Lou Talbott and Mr. Herbert Smith were not present when the picture was taken.

Seniors

A party with "punch" was the Senior-Parent Conference in the Cafeteria in October. Rose McCombs, secretary of the Senior Class, serves some of the refreshment variety to President Tom McCormick.

Don Williams was one of the entertainers at the Senior Day Dance. Don, better known to his fellow classmates as "Butch," is a very busy man around school.

Seniors Gordon Harnack and Wynona Carver were the principal characters in a stunt to encourage teen-agers to be immunized against polio. This skit was presented at the halftime of the Manual-Columbus basketball game in January, the big polio drive month.

One of the things a Senior looks forward to is the processional from Manual to Delevan Smith Field on graduation evening. He prays for sunny skies so he may have all the Commencement tickets he wishes for his proud relatives. Commencement, the fulfilled dream, brings to a close the fun-filled years at Manual.

The eighth grade makes use of Manual's special rooms such as the Shops, the Home Economics Labs, and Art and Choir rooms. Here one of the girls' eighth grade chorus classes vocalizes under the direction of Miss Freda Hart.

Coffee Time For Teachers

Putting on the coffee pot for lunch is no small task for Juanita Reed of Manual's kitchen crew. The big urn with its shiny spigots holds a lot of coffee, and it's a good thing. Most faculty members, the office staff, and maintenance personnel relish a steaming cup of "java" during the mid-day break. And it's no surprise that teachers from neighboring grade schools find it to their advantage to patronize our Cafeteria.

Clean-Up Crew Keeps Manual Spotless

Now in its fourth year of occupancy, the Manual structure still has a "brand new" look, thanks to our efficient custodial staff. Scores of rooms, miles of corridors, and a myriad of windows make Manual a big place to "redd up"; and our custodians and matrons are among the first to arrive and the last to leave every day. Although it's easy to overlook a routine job well-done, the shine on our desks after a vacation is proof of extra polish by our custodians.

Phyllis Buenell works on the turkey for a main dish casserole, while Phyllis Alexander, in the background, arranges salads.

Oliver Williams helps get the salads one step nearer Manualites' trays by spreading the crushed ice that keeps them cold.

Lunch Periods Rate High With Hungry Redskins

"Lunch" is one of our favorite subjects as any Redskin could tell you. Although it takes four periods to feed us all, our 40 minutes in our pleasant Cafeteria is time well-spent. The money is well-spent, too. Joyce Trice prepares sandwiches prior to the Period 4 "invasion," while Bernice Garrett sets out pies to tempt the sweet toothed.

Every year Manual graduates several hundred Redskins who go on to higher learning or out into the community to take their places as adult citizens—and consumers. The new “crop” will soon be following the footsteps of the academic line shown here as they proceed to Delavan Smith Field for Commencement.
